

Members and Colleagues

It has been my pleasure to serve you as President this year. It has been very rewarding to see our accomplishments. For me, there has been so much to learn and much to do. With the help of your diligent and hard-working Board members, LCPCM continues to thrive and to find meaningful ways to meet your needs.

One of my personal goals has been to offer almost monthly webinars. This past year we sponsored 5 events on a plethora of subjects. We also initiated providing more training by LCPCs. Many of you requested this and we listened.

Our first in-person Fall Conference in 3 years was energizing and we are planning to do the same this Spring. Bi-annual in-person conferences have been our tradition. It is your Association's thank you for keeping LCPCM dynamic. The gift really is giving you an exceptional sit-down luncheon while networking with your colleagues, in addition to the affordable CEUs that we all need.

You may have noticed that we now send you a newsletter four times a year. Our newsletter spotlights one of our members. If you want a chance to be featured with a bio and picture, let us know.

These are only some of our efforts. The LCPCM Board of Directors has five officers and two At-Large members. Our secretary, Lauren Massa has resigned her officer position as of the end of this month. LCPCM appreciates the time we have had with her. As a result, however, we are asking for an LCPCM member to volunteer to serve as Acting-Secretary until our next election. If you are enthusiastic about LCPCM and want to participate in a meaningful way, you are qualified. In addition, Molly Thorn has resigned her position as Membership Chair. As you know, we are so grateful for her many years of service on the Board as Secretary, President-Elect, President, and Past-President.

The Board meets monthly the 4th Friday of each month on Zoom from 10-12 noon. Please contact me. We can talk about both of these openings, and I can answer your questions.

Happy New Year!

Hillary Alexander, LCPC
LCPCM President
